NORTHFIELD CONFERENCES —DAY BY DAY—

THE HIGHLIGHTS And Other Information of Interest

FRIDAY, AUGUST 3

At the 8 o'clock meeting held in the auditorium last night, Dr. James Black, of St. George's Church, Edinburgh, spoke on the subject of Paul's letter to the Philippians. This is a remarkable letter, Dr. Black said, and it is worth remembering that it was written, like much great literature, while the author was in prison. In verse nine of the first chapter is Paul's prayer, which consists of one main petition and three suggested requests. Of the three, one is intellectual, one moral, and the third spiritual.

Dr. Black continued to show how much of significance to-day was contained in Paul's prayer, that it began with love which is the deepest secret of the Christian life. Dr. Black stated that creeds and dogma were important, but love for Jesus came before creed. The Church of Christ is broken up into different denominations today, not because of hate, but because of love for different aspects of a central truth that is dear to all. To be effective, however, this love must be translated into a moral force.

In conclusion, Dr. Black declared that his prayer for the conference was that the love of the members might grow more and more in knowledge and in fine discrimination, and three things will happen. They will learn to choose between things which differ in excellence and will choose the highest. They will learn to be sincere and without offense, and lastly, they will learn to be filled with the fruit of righteousness, which is Jesus Christ.

The subject of Rev. Adam Burnett's second address before the Conference was "Jesus' Promise to Faith," and he developed this text in the light of its importance to Christ.

"Jesus was never done asking for faith," stated Dr. Burnett, "faith to move mountains, yet Jesus had a mountain facing Him at that time which fairly filled the road, the last battle of His life. Each one of us has a mountain of some sort, poverty, grief, old age, the alienation of vast millions of people from the Christian faith, the ghastly problem of getting nations to look so steadfastly at the ten million graves of Europe that they may be forced into some kind of permanent peace. These are mountains so vast that no power on earth will ever move them except the power of God which faith makes operative in human life."

The program for Saturday includes an address at 11 o'clock in the Auditorium by Dr. Adam W. Burnett, and one at 8 by Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, The Round Top service conducted by Mr. A. E. Raja-Singham of Ceylon, Deputy Secretary of the India Christian Mission, on the subject, "What India Thinks of Christ."

SATURDAY, AUGUST 4

East Northfield, August 4.—Dr. Robert E. Speer, Secretary, Presbyterian Board of Foreign Missions, addressed the General Conference Friday evening, taking his text from Romans XI:22, and preached on the goodness and severity of God, the two apparently contradictory principles which are combined in the character of God and which have to be reconciled everywhere in life. Dr. Speer divided human nature into three classes—those who have kept their purity unstained; those who have lost it apparently beyond recall; and the vast majority in between.

"The gospel," declared Dr. Speer, "proclaims the law of the harvest, what ye sow that shall ye reap. Innocence lost can never be regained."

However, continued Dr. Speer, this is no gospel for the man and women who have lost their purity, and it is a tragedy, if, when a minister is preaching that side of the gospel, there happens to be in his congregation just one person who needs the doctrine of the faithless love of the Father. No matter how far one has sinned, a radical change of mind is the first step towards recovery and walk in the beneficence of God.

Dr. Adam W. Burnett, of Westbourne Church, Glasgow, Scotland, preached in the Auditorium at 11:00 this morning on the subject of "Finding Christ through a child-like attitude," taking his text from the first epistle to the Corinthians, Chapter 13. "To be childish," said Dr. Burnett, "is one thing, to be child-like is quite another. It is the one quality that we must have to know Christ. To the very end, it will only be to the humble and the child-like that the heavenly treasure will be given. One reason we think so little about Christ is that we don't feel the need of Him."

The speaker continued with the assertion that we are so filled with our absorption in the everyday things of life that we have lost our sense of proportion. We have no time for even a thought of God, and some of us are under the tragic illusion that it is under the power of circumstance or fate to make our life what it is. Childishness implies a very poor sense of proportion. Some of us are so completely dominated by petty material and monetary drives that we have completely lost sight of the richness and beauty of living that comes to us from God through Jesus Christ.

"We in the ministry," stated Dr. Burnett, "must bring men to know of the length and breadth, the depth and height of the spirit of Christ. We do not get this humble childlike maturity from any other source than at the feet of Jesus Christ."

Dr. Burnett will be the speaker on Sunday at both the morning and evening services in the Auditorium. The morning service is held at 10:45, and the evening service is at 8 o'clock. At 4:00 tomorrow afternoon, there will be an hour of music in the Mount Hermon School Chapel with the Westminster Double Quartet and Carlton L'Hommiedieu at the organ. Mr. Gordon A. Curtis, of West Chester, Pa., will conduct the Round Top meeting at 7.

MONDAY, AUGUST 6

East Northfield, August 6.—Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie, president emeritus, Hartford Theological Foundation, in an address to the General Conference of Christian Workers, here, said that today the whole world is swept over by one portentous mood, a mood full of passion and tumult, whose political, economic, and spiritual confusion reminds us of that pristine chaos when "the earth was waste and void, and darkness was upon the face of the deep." In the outward world of public life, the outstanding facts of today are revolution, rebellion, and revolt.

What does this mood with its hatred of institutions, customs, and traditions really mean? If it is a world-wide movement, is there a universal fact against which it is directed? What is the one fact which has produced wrong everywhere and awakened in different tongues and with different weapons one spirit of rebellion? It is the revolt against human nature. The remarkable thing about this world-wide chaos is that men are not only aware of it, but aware also that mankind is alone responsible for its shame and misery, so that the problem confronting man is concerned with the meaning of life, the destiny of human nature, which means the final haven of every individual man's voyage.

In the tragic sorrow of our generation, God alone can intervene with supernatural power which can cope with the hard, dark, persistent fact of a chaos whose other name is sin. So can only God conquer chaos and through faith deliver man from the demon of despair, so only as the word spreads from soul to soul, from conscience to conscience, from one surrendered will to win the surrender of another.

Last evening Reverend Adam W. Burnett took for his subject the account of Jesus' washing the disciples' feet, given in the gospel of St. John at first thought it seems odd, Mr. Burnett said, that just in the place where one would expect an account of the Lord's supper, there is instead this narrative.

Mr. Burnett feels that this record of Jesus' act is one of the most heart-moving in the Scriptures. This meeting with the disciples had been Jesus' last chance to pour out on them the guidance and wisdom and love which they needed. Now the poignant hour of parting from these men who had stood by Him had come, and, as he thinks of all that they had meant to Him, His love for them sweeps over His heart in a great wave. He must do something for them. He washes the disciples' feet, and nothing has ever surpassed the matchless beauty of that act. It was love in all its lowliness. Jesus, knowing that the Father had given all things unto His hands, was yet washing the disciples' feet. He had here an opportunity to teach His disciples a lesson for even then they were quarreling about precedence. His act was an unforgettable rebuke.

For Tuesday, there will be a meeting for ministers only under the leadership of Dr. W. Douglas Mackenzie at 9 o'clock; at 9:30, a general meeting with P. Whitwell Wilson; at 10, a meeting for ministers only with Adam Burnett; at 10:30, a song service in the auditorium; at 11, a general meeting with Dr. James Black; at 8 p.m. Dr. George A. Buttrick, pastor of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, of New York, will speak in the Auditorium.

TUESDAY, AUGUST 7

East Northfield, August 7.—Using as his topic the amazing failure of Paul at Athens as contrasted with his equally amazing success at Corinth, Dr. James Black, minister of St. George's West, Edinburgh, author of many books and one of the foremost preachers of Scotland, spoke to the members of the General Conference of Christian Workers this morning. The failure was directly Paul's own fault, stated Dr. Black, although God gets his chance only with people who feel their need, and the Athenians emphatically did not. The reason Paul failed was that he attempted to play a role for which God had not fitted him.

There was not city in the world at that time that was more sinful than Corinth or more cultured than Athens. When Paul was among the Corinthians, he preached to them directly and told them about Christ. His success was amazing even to himself.

When he went to Athens, he became self-conscious because of the great cultural reputation of that city, and he decided that he would talk to them as a philosopher which was the custom of the Athenian rhetoricians. His consequent failure was as complete as had been his victory at Corinth. The Athenians did not throw him in prison; they laughed.

"Adjust yourself," said Dr. Black, "to the ever-present changes around you when preaching the gospel. Change your methods if you wish to, but never change your message. God has given you your own particular gifts. When you try to be something else, you always meet with defeat. Your only gift to Christ is your own consecrated self. Keep to your God-given gifts, and if I may use your American phrase, be yourself."

Tomorrow morning, there will be a meeting for ministers only at 9 under the leadership of Dr. George A. Buttrick, of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York; at 9:30, there will be a meeting with P. Whitwell Wilson; at 10, there will be another meeting for ministers only under the leadership of Dr. Adam W. Burnett; at 10:30, there will be a song service in the Auditorium; at 11, Dr. James Black will speak. Tomorrow evening, there will be a Round Top meeting at 7 with the Reverend C. W. Turner of Newport, N. H., who will speak on the subject of "The Maine Sea Coast Mission." Dr. Paul E. Scherer, of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church in New York, will speak at 8 in the Auditorium, and there will be a Northfield Schools Faculty concert in Sage Chapel at 9:15.

WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 8

East Northfield, August 8.—Dr. George A. Buttrick, of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, preached last night to a large audience in the auditorium on a fragment from the story of the Emmaus road: "He made as if He would go further." Dr. Buttrick pictured the two men trudging down the road, saddened because their Lord had been crucified. They were lonely and friendless carrying the heavy load of sadness and broken-mindedness. Then Christ appeared to them. He might have come back to strike terror to those who had crucified Him, but instead He came as companion to the two men walking down the dusty road. They walked for seven miles, and then they reached the cottage. The two men turned in the gateway, but He made as if He would go further.

They urged Him, of course, to tarry with them because the night was come, so He stayed a while. That is how Jesus comes to men, stated Dr. Buttrick, silently, imperceptibly, gently, just as the stars come. He always makes as if He would go further, never trusting himself on anyone. Jesus never interfered with a man's own nature; they must issue their own welcome because everybody's nature is sacred to Christ.

Mr. P. Whitwell Wilson, former member of the British Parliament, now a writer on the New York Times staff, spoke on the subject which he felt that they are fighting and losing. It is true, of course, said Mr. Wilson, that the colleges in the United States are having an adverse influence on the churches. In England, parents do not send their children to college to receive the views of the professors. They send them that their bodies and minds may be trained; their views, they think, should come from a higher authority than the university. Mr. Wilson does not think that the present-day atheism is much different from that of Russia. As religion and faith, continued Mr. Wilson, which makes old people look young is far better than one which makes young people look old. At the same time, Mr. Wilson does not think that the difficulty of the church today is really intellectual, for he hardly thinks that there is enough intellect in the church for that. People are not worrying very much about the book of Jonah, for many do not know where to find it, or about the Athanasian creed, for they do not know what it is. The church today, said Mr. Wilson, is battling with the world, and upon this issue depends the fate of mankind. The church, however, is indestructible because it is international. Let no country, as for instance Russia, suppose that if it gives up Christianity as a whole it is dead. The question today is not whether the church is Protestant or Catholic; it is whether the church is Christian. Every church must gather around the Wonder of Christ.

Tomorrow morning, there will be a meeting for ministers only at 9 under the leadership of Dr. George A. Buttrick, of the Madison Avenue Presbyterian Church, New York, will speak in the Auditorium.

George A. Buttrick. There will be a general meeting at 9:30 with P. Whitwell Wilson; and at 10, there will be another meeting for ministers only with Adam W. Burnett. At 10:30, there will be a song service in the auditorium. At 11, Dr. Paul E. Scherer, of the Holy Trinity Lutheran Church, in New York, will speak in the auditorium. Tomorrow evening, Archdeacon Francis K. D. Smyth of Lewes Cathedral, Sussex, England, will speak on the subject of "A United Christian Testimony." Dr. George A. Buttrick will address the regular 8 o'clock meeting in the Auditorium.

THURSDAY, AUGUST 9

A special three-day session for laymen under the leadership of John R. Mott will be a new feature marking the close of the 54th annual session of the Northfield General Conference of Christian Workers now going on here on the campus of Northfield Seminary. The Laymen's Week-end, which will take place from August 10 to 12, will include three prominent ministers and three noted laymen among the list of speakers. Dr. Mott is now completing an extended trip through African mission territories as chairman of the International Missionary Council and is planning his return so as to be in Northfield during the closing days of the Conference, particularly for the laymen's week-end. Dr. Paul D. Moody, youngest son of Dwight L. Moody, founder of the conference, is acting as chairman at present and will be joined in the chairmanship by Dr. Mott upon his arrival.

Among the outstanding Christian leaders who will address the Conference during the week-end are: P. Whitwell Wilson, former member of the British parliament and "London" newspaper feature writer, now a resident of New York. He is on the staff of the New York Times and is the author of many books. James M. Black, minister of St. George's West, Edinburgh, and one of the foremost preachers of Scotland. Charles E. Jefferson, honorary minister of the Broadway Tabernacle, New York, which he served as pastor for 32 years. David R. Porter, former secretary of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A. He has recently joined the Northfield staff as head of the Bible department at Mount Hermon School. Adam W. Burnett, minister of Westbourne Church, Glasgow, Scotland. Charles R. Watson, president of the American University at Cairo, and John R. Mott.

One of the most attractive features of the week-end will be the singing of the Westminster Double Quartet, a mixed quartet chosen by Dr. John Finley Williamson from graduates of his Westminster Choir School of Princeton. The singers are exponents of modern a-cappella choir music and have been lauded by many leading critics as introducing a new era of church music.

The program for the week-end is based upon the theme around which the entire General Conference is built, namely, "What think ye of Christ." Round table meetings will be held for discussion of the grave problems facing the Christian church today. One of the main purposes of this special week-end is for this discussion on the part of the laymen because Christian leaders all over the world feel that the church is facing grave problems today which can be solved only with intelligent and concerted action on the part of its laymen.

On Friday at 3 P.M., there will be a popular concert by the Westminster Double Quartet; at 7, there will be a Round Top service under the leadership of Charles R. Watson, and Dr. James M. Black will speak in the auditorium at 8.

Saturday morning, P. Whitwell Wilson will speak at 9:30; Dr. Adam Burnett at 11; there will be a round table discussion on "the problems of the rural church" at 2:30 p.m.; David R. Porter will conduct the Round Top service at 7; and John R. Mott will speak in the auditorium at 8. Sunday morning, Dr. Charles E. Jefferson will conduct the regular morning service in the auditorium at 11, and John R. Mott will speak at the evening service at 8.

SACRED CONCERT

A sacred concert in the Northfield Auditorium next Sunday afternoon at four will be one of the features of the closing day of the General Conference. Under the direction of George F. Krueger, minister of music at the Euclid Avenue Baptist Church of Cleveland, a member of the Westminster Double Quartet, an adult choir of 100 voices, a children's choir of 75 and the Westminster singers will give a program of sacred hymns and anthems. Dr. Charles E. Jefferson will preach at the Sunday morning service at 10:45, and the 8 p.m. meeting will be addressed by Dr. John R. Mott.

HOUR OF MUSIC

Mount Hermon's final "Midsummer Hour of Music" was enjoyed Sunday by an audience which completely filled the Memorial Chapel. It is estimated that 1200 were present, many of the guests coming from Keene, Brattleboro and Greenfield. The Westminster Singers, who are in charge of the music at the Northfield General Conference, gave a convincing demonstration of the fact that sacred music has entered a new era.

Newest Music at Oldest Conference

Westminster Singers, exponents of modern a-cappella choir music who are singing at the "Mother of Conferences", the Northfield General Conference which was founded in 1810 by D. L. Moody. The singers are graduates of the Westminster Choir.

The enthusiastic audience seemed to echo the words of former Governor James M. Cox who described listening to the Westminster Choir as a spiritual awakening. The organ numbers by Carlton L'Hommiedieu, Mount Hermon School organist were also enjoyed.

The Program:—
Third Organ Sonata, Borowski
O Sing Unto the Lord, Hasler
O Praise Ye the Name of the Lord, Nikolsky
All in the April Evening, Robertson

Westminster Singers
Andante from "Grande Piece Symphonique", Franck
Mr. L'Hommiedieu
In Joseph's Lovely Garden, Dickinson
Lift Thine Eyes, Mendelssohn
The Outgoing of the Boats, Robertson

Westminster Singers
Angelus, Massonet
Marche Religieuse, Guilman
Mr. L'Hommiedieu
Were You There, Burleigh
In Dulci Jubilo, Christiansen
The Shepherd's Story, Dickinson
Benediction, Latkin

HOTEL NOTES

Dr. J. East Harrison will resume his Bible Classes Monday morning at 9:30 continuing through to Oct. Rev. W. W. Coe has been substituting during Dr. Harrison's absence.

The Republicans will rally at the Chateau on August 29th. Candidates for the various State offices will meet.

The Westminster Choir sang Wednesday morning at the Bible Study Class and they will sing again Saturday evening at 9:15 at the Hotel Parlor.

The Grenfell exhibit is on display all day today at the Hotel Parlor.

Wednesday, Aug. 15 will see the Canterbury Shakers and their exhibit at the Hotel Parlor.

ARE YOU A WA WA?

Calling themselves the "Wa-Wa's" for reasons of greatest secrecy, a group of Northfield's young people of college age have banded together to enjoy weekly picnics, movie parties etc. Last week the members held a "rushing party" at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Johnson on Lake Spofford, N. H.

The organization was created three years ago by a group of six who felt that a planned social program for a selected number of young people was what Northfield has been meeting regularly since that time. It has its by-laws, pledges, secret meetings, etc. just as any regular college fraternity.

Aaron Newton is the president this year with the other officers as follows: vice president, Seth Field; secretary, Gladys Miller; treasurer, Tabor Polhemus.

A male member of the Wa-Wa Club may be recognized by the mustache he is forced to wear this summer by general vote of the association. The girls may be identified by their attractiveness.

So—look for a Wa-Wa the next time you walk down the street.

TOWN MEETING

All the articles included in the Town Meeting Warrant were voted on favorably by about 60 citizens who attended. W. F. Hoehn was Moderator. The Committee appointed under Article 6 to make a future report includes Carl Mason, Mrs. Ross Spencer, Clifford Babin, Henry Johnson and Joseph Field.

Garden Club

The next meeting of the Garden Club, will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Hoehn, in the Highlands, Tuesday, August 14th. Supper at 6:30 P.M. as usual. Note the change of date. Because of conflict with the movies it seemed wiser to again change the time of meeting.

Bring your lunch, and if possible bring a card table to help out in the supper arrangements.

The Executive and Flower Committees met last Tuesday evening with the Secretary, Miss Blanche Corser. The committees, who will have charge of the Entry and Registration, and the Staging were chosen. The Entry and Registration Committee are: Mrs. Harold Bigelow, chairman; Mrs. Iola Hodgson, Mrs. E. F. Howard, and Mr. J. Lawrence. The Mt. Hermon member will be announced later. Entry blanks may be obtained from any of the committee as well as at the Herald Office, after the 10th. Mrs. Pallam will have charge of the table for children under 12 years of age. Please get in touch with her. Entry blanks may be obtained from her also.

All entrants are requested to bring their own vases. Use baskets, pottery bowls and vases, in fact anything not too elaborate for the mixed bouquets. Copper and brass are lovely also. In the miniature bouquets, vases must be not over three inches in height and the entire arrangement not over seven inches. The bean-pot exhibit is just what its name suggests; an arrangement of flowers in an old bean-pot. The wild flowers come under the same ruling as the mixed bouquets. All of these tables will be judged by the harmony of color, the artistic arrangement, and the suitability of the container.

In the specimen blooms, exhibitors are asked to furnish their own containers also, but these should be very simple. A clear glass vase a milk bottle, an olive bottle or drinking glass of the right size are suggested. The flowers in this group will be judged for their freshness, good color, size and the length and stiffness of the stems. The schedule of the Show is as follows:—

- Section A
Dahlias, Class 1, Show Type, 1 bloom. Class 2, Cactus Type, 1 bloom. Class 3, Pompons or dwarfs, 3 blooms.
- Section B
Gladioli, Class 4, Large Flowered Type, 3 blooms. Class 5, Primulins, 3 blooms.
- Section C
Seasonal Flowers, Class 6, Zinnias, Giant, 3 blooms. Class 7, Zinnias, Liliput, 6 blooms. Class 8, Marigold, Large, 3 blooms. Class 9, Marigold, Small French, 6 blooms. Class 10, Snapdragons, 3 blooms. Class 11, Asters, 3 blooms. Class 12, Perceval Phlox, 3 blooms.
- Section D
Class 13, Potted Plants.
- Section E
Class 14, Wild Flowers.
- Section F
Colonial Bouquets, Class 15, Mixed Bouquets, Class 16 Bean-pot Bouquets.
- Section G
Class 17, Miniature Bouquets.
- Section H
Class 18, Children's Table.
- Section I
Class 19, Vegetables.

OLD RESIDENT PASSES MARIA COLTON KEET, DIES AFTER LINGERING ILLNESS

Mrs. Maria Heard Colton Keet, widow of Newton Windsor Keet, died at her home on Main Street, on Wednesday, August 8th, at 12 o'clock noon, after several years of failing health. She was born in Northfield on May 25th, 1864, the daughter of E. Wells and Susie Heard Colton, and was married to Newton Windsor Keet of this town on September 30, 1907.

Mrs. Keet lived practically all her life in Northfield, taking an active part and keen interest in town affairs. She was a member of the Unitarian Church, the Ladies Alliance and Sewing Society of that church. She was Past Matron of Northfield Chapter, O.E.S., of which she was a charter member and an officer until her failing health prevented her attendance at the meetings. She was a member of the National, the State, and the Connecticut Valley Pomona Granges, as well as the local Northfield Grange of which she was Past Master and which she served as Chaplain for many years. She gave loyally and unstintingly of herself in her service to her church and the organizations with which she was affiliated, and her quiet unassuming life was a power for good in the community.

She is survived in her immediate family by her brother, Joseph R. Colton, and three nieces, Dr. Florence Colton, Mrs. David Cook, and Miss Priscilla Colton, all of Northfield.

Funeral services will be held from the Unitarian Church on Friday, August 10, at 2:30 P.M. Rev. Mary Andrews Conner officiating. The O.E.S. funeral ceremony will be given by Northfield Chapter, at the church and the Grange service of the Northfield Grange at the grave. Burial will be in Center Cemetery.

NORTHFIELD A. A.

The Northfield Ball Team is going like a house on fire right now and playing bang up baseball. Within the last week they have taken Hinsdale and Warwick into camp.

Dick Sherwin developed into a pitcher over night and struck out 11 Hinsdale batters. Dick Farley pitched masterful ball and Warwick went back over the mountain defeated.

To-night they play North Lev. and a good crowd should be out.

EDITORIAL

"The Untaxed American
Is A Myth"

Here is a statement by Dr. William Bennett Munro of the Executive Council of the California Institute of Technology, that should be firmly implanted in the mind of every American:

"The untaxed American is a myth. No one who occupies property, owns a car, smokes tobacco, drinks beer, goes to the theatre, eats three meals a day, rides on a street car or goes through the other motions of daily life gets by untaxed. Yet there are people who think themselves non-taxpayers when at least ten per cent of their earnings go for taxes. They are victims of the great American delusion. Of itself government earns no money. Every dollar that it gets for its support must come from someone who does the earning. To do this it must tax production, all production, which means that both producer and consumer share in paying the bills."

Dr. Munro might have added that it is the consumer who invariably bears the greater share of the burden—our industries, much as they would like to, have no magic means of conjuring money from air. Every expense of operation, whether it be materials, labor, rent or taxes, must be included in the cost of the finished product. The buyer always pays. And today, with the cost of all forms of government soaring, he pays more in taxes for each dollar he earns than he ever did before.

If these indirect taxes were paid directly, there would be a howl of anguish from one end of the country to another. Taxpayers in all walks of life would band together to demand more efficient and less expensive government. And a similar result will follow when the people learn that indirect taxes can be as expensive as direct taxes—even more expensive, as heavier levies can be exacted without the public knowing it.

In brief, when the actual facts concerning taxation are known, there may be a change from the intolerable conditions of the present.

ALLIANCE REPORT

Thinking that the town's people who helped so generously to make the Rummage and Food Sale that was held recently for the benefit of the Northfield Hospital, a success, will be interested to know what has been provided for the use of the patients, the Social Service Committee of the Women's Alliance who had the affair in charge, submits the following report:

The total amount realized from the Sale was $100.00. With this sum there have been purchased one hospital bed with mattress, one pair pillows, one pair sheets, one pair pillow slips, one pair all wool blankets, one spread, one bedside and tray table, and four bed lamps. The committee regrets that owing to a long but unavoidable delay in shipping the

"It's always cool in my kitchen"

"Ever since we have had our electric range installed, summer cooking has been a pleasure.

"The perfect insulation of my electric range keeps the heat out of the kitchen and in the oven where it belongs.

"I always make it a point to serve my family at least one hot meal a day during the summer months, and I usually select a dish which is easy to prepare, as for instance, the one printed at the right.

"You should try it, too—you'll have no trouble at all if you own an electric range, with its time and temperature controls eliminating watching and testing, leaving you free for other duties."

Most any dish may be prepared by electric cookery with an ease and freedom from summer discomfort that will be a revelation to the housewife who is yet to own an electric range.

Your local dealer will gladly show you the possibilities of this new method of cooking that makes the kitchen as cool as any room in the house—why not see him today?

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car

There are some things we refuse to do to sell a car. We like sales, but late-dealing and the confidence of our customers are dearer to us.

For one thing, we refuse to poison any one's mind against another make of car. We know what our car is and what it will do, and we are ready to tell you about that. But to imply defects in another car is not our business.

We have done our utmost to encourage intelligent buying of motor cars by showing purchasers how to protect their own interests. All that a good producer asks is a customer who knows quality when he sees it. An intelligent purchaser will speedily conclude that only a bad product requires bad sales methods.

We refuse to keep thinking in your ears that the Ford V-8 is the best, most economical, lowest priced car. That is claimed for several cars. Obviously it cannot be true of all. There comes a point where claims and objectives and all advertising hysteria disappears in its own fog. Frankly, I prefer facts.

We say the Ford V-8 is the best car we have ever made.

We say that our 8-cylinder car is an economical to operate on any lower number of cylinders.

We say that we have always been known as the makers of good cars and that the many good, well-balanced qualities of our present car place it at the head of our line to date.

Any one wishing to do business with us on these principles will find our word and the quality of our product to be A-1. What we say about economy, operation and durability will stand good anywhere.

CIVILIZATION

A short 12,000 years ago
The Stone Age man, a brute,
Would close a rock to kill his foe
Before he learned to shoot
A poisoned arrow from his bow,
Or wear a tailored suit.There were no metals, and no cash,
No boats with sails, no books,
No matches, and no corned-beef
hash,
No cookstoves, and no cooks;
To stray from home was deadly rash;
Dames were not much for looks.Think the amaze of those old girls
If they could see today
A flapper—cigarette and curl—
In auto speed away
To spend in college social whirl
Her daddy's money,
And learn a basket-ball to hurt,
Drink cocktails, and be gay!

INTERESTING DAYS

An interesting person born Aug.
2, (1854) of whom mother and father might tell the young people at table on this night, was Francis Marion Crawford, American novelist and historian. Though Bagnde-Luoca, Italy, was his birthplace (his father being the American sculptor Thomas Crawford) his early schooling was at Concord,
New Hampshire, then at Trinity in Cambridge, England, and Heidelberg, and Rome. The dreadful thing for which we most remember Aug. 3, Germany declared war on France in 1914.The next day Great Britain declared war on Germany, and a year after on that day the Germans captured Warsaw.August 5, being the first Sunday in the month this year, is Friendship Day, when each of us is expected to perform some special friendly act, beyond our usual social contacts.A treatise on "The Education of Girls," a subject extremely novel and almost shocking three centuries ago, was among the writings which made famous the French author—ecclesiast Francis de Sal-nac Mothe Fenelon, Archbishop of Cambrai, who was born Aug. 6, 1651.Ellen Fitz Pendleton, who has been president of Wellesley College, one of America's greatest women's educational institutions,
since 1911, was born Aug. 7, 1851,
at Westerly, R. I.Nelson Appleton Miles, who rose to be commander-in-chief of the United States Navy, was born
Aug. 8, 1839, at Westminster,
Mass.

MENU FOR PRINCE

On Aug. 3 you might care to repeat in your own home the menu used on that day ten years ago when the Prince of Wales was entertained at luncheon at the White House in Washington, D. C. It included melons, clear soup served with fairy toast, broiled chicken,
glazed apples, peas and potatoes,
hearts of lettuce, and cheese balls.

CLEARING SOUP

To clear your soup stock, place
egg white slightly beaten, or finely chopped lean raw beef, because the albumen in either will draw to itself the coagulated meat juices.
Some rise to the top, and may be skimmed off; others are precipitated.Let the stock get cold, then remove the fat, put what you wish to clear in a stew pan, and for each quart allow the white and shell of one egg. Beat the egg a little, add 2 teaspoons cold water
for each egg, break the shell fine, an dput all into the stock. Stir constantly till it reaches boiling point, and boil 2 minutes. Beat back off the fire and let stand 20 minutes without stirring. Strain through a fine strainer into a larger one lined with cheesecloth doubled. Any needed seasoning must be added before clearing process, not after. Many like a few shavings of lemon rind added to the boiling stock.

CHEESE BALLS

Mix 1-1/2 cups grated cheese
(mild, not sharp) with 1 tablespoon flour, 1-4 teaspoon salt, and a few grains of cayenne pepper.
Beat the whites of 8 eggs stiff and add, shape into little balls and roll in fine cracker crumbs. Fry in deep fat and drain on brown paper. Serve with your salad course.

ITALIAN DELIGHT

From Mrs. Bob Parkinson of Corralitos, Calif., I have this ree-cipe for a dish which would be very appropriate to serve Aug. 2 in memory of the birthplace of the novelist F. Marion Crawford: Italian delight. Brown together 1 lb.
top round steak (ground), 4 large onions and a clove of garlic; add 1 can corn, 4 small cans hot sauce,
1 bell pepper, 3 tablespoons chili powder, salt and a dash of red pepper. Boil and drain 1-1/2 lbs.
small macaroni, add the meat sauce, top with grated cheese, and bake.

SNOW PUDDING

Mrs. Scott of Green Bay, Wis., makes a very good, simple snow pudding by stirring together 1 pt.
sweet milk, 1-2 cup sugar, 2 tablespoons cornstarch, 2 well beaten eggs, yolks first, then a pinch of salt, and the last thing before pouring into the moulds, add the whites.

BIG SISTER'S LEMON PIE

Moisten 1 heaping tablespoon cornstarch with cold water. Add 1 cup boiling water. Stir over fire 2 or 3 minutes or until cooked. Add 1 tablespoon butter, 1 cup sugar,

MANY men make occasional telephone calls to their offices during vacation, just to keep in touch. Such calls, being brief and to the point, don't interfere with vacation schedules, but serve as an admirable check.
With times and conditions uncertain, they are bound to help one's peace of mind, and they might turn out to be a wise precaution.

To illustrate the low cost of toll calls made during the night now period, the following typical rates are cited for a 3-minute station-to-station call

Lake Pleasant

On Friday afternoon at the Hillcrest on Mammot Street a bridge luncheon was served by Mrs. G.
Raymond Blodgett in honor of Miss Jean Howlett of New York City. In addition to the guest of the occasion and the hostess, there were present Mrs. M. E. Stevens, Mrs. Hattie Martin and Mrs. E.
M. Messer of Boston, Mrs. Joseph F. Snipes and Mrs. Claire L. Manchester of Casadaga, Florida and Mrs. Helen R. Turney of Lake Pleasant.

Mrs. Turney won the first prize, Mrs. Martin the second and the consolation prize was awarded to Mrs. Stevens.

The dance Saturday evening
drew a capacity crowd as usual and the music of the Ambassadors was excellent.

At the services in the Temple
Sunday forenoon and afternoon
Rev. Albert P. Blinn spoke upon the subjects, "Life's Mission" and
"The Goodness of God" and held
the close attention of his hearers.
Following the discourses and in the evening the message work and clairvoyant demonstrations of Mrs.
Isabel Bradley made a profound impression and received much favorable comment. Mrs. Bradley will hold message services in the Temple tomorrow and on Wednesday evenings.

The vocal solo by Mrs. Rose E.
Manchester during the day and the duets by Mrs. Manchester and Mrs. Lillian J. Blinn in the afternoon were greatly enjoyed.

During the past week Mrs.
Franklin Pace at the Happy House
on Union Street has entertained as guests Mrs. Sarah Kay of Woonsocket, R. I., Mrs. Elizabeth
Gorton of Providence, R. I., Mrs.
C. F. Burnett and Mrs. Charlotte
Lincoln of Holyoke.

Mrs. Herbert S. Streeter has closed his cottage on Broadway for a week and is staying in Greenfield
while Mr. and Mrs. Burton T. Gaskill are motoring in the Adirondacks.

The noted psychic, Mr. Frederick Nicholson will serve at the Temple at all three services next Sunday.

Health Forum, State Department
of Public Health, Boston, Mass.

Hay Fever

The majority of hay fever patients in New England begin their symptoms between the tenth and twentieth of August. This is the opening of the longest and most severe period of hay fever and extends to the first frost.

The chief cause of the late or fall hay fever is the pollen of the common ragweed. The air-borne pollen lodges in the mucous membrane of a person who is sensitized to that particular pollen and there follows a congestion and swelling of the membrane.

The symptoms are essentially local and due to the re-action in the mucous membrane of the eye, nose, and pharynx. Symptoms vary considerably in severity and consist of congestion and an itching of the nose and sometimes in the ears. Sneezing is violent and accompanied by a thin, alkaline, irritating mucous discharge.

Beneficial results have been obtained from the injection of the proper pollen extract, but the effects of seasonal injections are not permanent. By means of these injections, however, the average number of days of discomfort to the patient may be reduced and the chance of sinus infection and asthma diminished.

GOVERNOR'S DAY AT EASTERN STATES EXPOSITION

New England's six governors will attend the annual Governor's Day observance at the opening of the 18th annual Eastern States Exposition on Sunday and Monday, Sept. 16 and 17. Tentative acceptances from chief executives
of New York, Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware, who will either be present or will be represented by official representatives have been received also by Charles
A. Fraser, general chairman of the Special Exposition Governors' Day Committee.

Governor's Day was established by the Eastern States Exposition trustees 14 years ago, and almost without exception since the chief executives of New England and the neighboring North Atlantic States have foregone their official duties for 48 hours to meet at the Exposition. The observance has grown until now they attract also more than 500 leaders in Eastern industrial, commercial, agricultural and educational life, meeting with the governors to discuss common problems and through exhibits at the Exposition to view industrial and agricultural progress.

The governors and their staffs,
together with other state officials will arrive in Springfield Sunday afternoon, Sept. 16. In the evening they will attend the exposition for a public reception, an entertainment program arranged in their honor in which the many Exposition activities will be reviewed,
and a concert by Goldman's Band,
Dr. Edwin Franko Goldman, conductor.

Babe Ruth celebrated his 21st anniversary in baseball by driving out a home run and a two-base hit.
This at an age when a great many people begin to wonder if golf isn't just a bit too strenuous for them. Showing one of three things: that baseball isn't such a tough sport after all, that the Babe is more rugged than most of us, or that most of us aren't so tough as we ought to be.

MAUDE ADAMS WILL GIVE MASQUE IN GREENFIELD

Veteran Actress Appears in Adaptation of "Twelfth Night"
On August 15

Maude Adams, famous actress of a generation ago, will appear in Greenfield on Wednesday August 15 at 8:30 p. m. at the Lawler theatre in an adaptation of Shakespeare's comedy "Twelfth Night."

The star, at 62 still packs every house she plays. With a production of Shakespeare's classic comedy "Twelfth Night" presented as a whimsical masque along lines she has often wanted to try out, Miss Adams has arranged a robust, delightful and very humorous play. The usual five acts have been condensed into two with Miss Adams playing the minor role of the servant girl, Maria.

The new setting of the play is the courtyard of an old English inn with Feste the clown appearing to dicker with the keeper for its use by the company of strolling players. Negotiations being concluded, the players appear, set up their arras and props and the play begins.

The supporting company include some of the best Shakespearean actors in the country. Among the group are Charles H. Croker-King who plays Sir Andrew Aguecheek, C. Norman Hammond as Sir Toby Belch, Marie Adels as Viola, Cecile Wulff as Olivia, Fredrick Roland as Malvolio, Bram Nossen as Orsino and many others.

The single engagement here is followed by one on Friday at Western, R. I., and the following Monday for the final week at the Oceanside Hotel at Magnolia.

MANY ENTRANTS IN ANNUAL AUGUST GOLF TOURNAMENT AT HOTEL

A large number of golf players drove off the first tee on Monday morning to vie for the attractive prizes which will be presented to the winners of the first and second and losers divisions of The Northfield Golf Tournament, which is held on the attractive and sporty course surrounding the hotel.

The tournament has so many entrants this year that it will require the entire week before finals can be played, so winners of the various divisions cannot be announced until next Friday's Northfield Herald, but even at this date, many are sure that they will reach the finals.

Some of the "high" moments of the matches played thus far were—when Paul Irvine drove 125 yard mashie shot right into the cup on the home green in the qualifying round on Monday—Mr. James Bennett of New Haven, who is spending the summer at the hotel, was often seen sinking twenty to thirty feet putts and heard telling his opponents that "he never was lucky."

Dr. Russell of Larchmont, N. Y. shook hands with Dr. Larson of Northampton, Mass., before their match and Larson swears that he "caught" Russell's bad golf when Larson and Russell made the hand to hand "contact."

Rev. McDivitt of Pittsburg, Pa., was seen giving the handicapper a chocolate bar just before the handicaps were made, the result being that Al Raymond, (the handicapper) gave McDivitt a very generous handicap, which enabled him to win the low net prize in the qualifying round.

George W. Hood of Weehawken, N. J., won the honor of being the best "dub" in the tournament, when he took thirteen on a par four hole.

Now that Friday is here, the "duffers" are all eliminated and some good matches may be seen both morning and afternoon.

The great increase in the number of entrants shows that not only is the Annual Tournament more popular than ever, but that the players are recognizing what a splendid and well kept golf course is now available at "The Northfield."

HAND-KNITTED GARMENTS ON EXHIBITION

An exhibition of hand-knitted garments will be given at the home of Mrs. E. M. Morgan next week, Thursday, Friday and Saturday under the direction of Mrs. Donald R. Williams. The latest models of Toga Yarns will be displayed by their stylist, Miss Sista. We believe this is the first exhibition of its kind to be given in Northfield and in view of the fact that knitting is becoming more and more popular, will be really worth while to attend.

For two years Mrs. Williams has been conducting an exclusive business in hand-knitted dresses and suits. She has styled garments most successfully for customers in Northfield and surrounding towns, as well as in Maine and the vicinity of Boston. Dresses are made to fit individual measurements and they are styled to suit all types of figures. Mainly, hand-knitted dresses are slenderizing, giving the stout figure a trim appearance, but by the clever use of yarns and proper styling, lend smartness to the too slender types. These dresses are especially practical because they stand more wear, seldom need pressing, launder easily, and can be worn in all seasons. Skirts hang straight and roomy, and one can be knit in two weeks spare time.

Everyone is cordially invited to come and bring friends, afternoons and evenings.

WELL KNOWN LOCAL MAN FOR COUNTY COMMISSIONER

The readers of The Northfield Herald will be particularly interested to know that Tom Elder, Dean of Mount Hermon School, has announced his candidacy for County Commissioner to fill the unexpired term of the late William Avery.

Mr. Elder came to Mount Hermon more than 30 years ago as a student. After completing his work at Mount Hermon, he entered Cornell University from which he was graduated. He then returned to Mount Hermon as Director of the Agricultural work of the School. For many summers, he was connected in an administrative capacity with the Northfield Summer Conference.

He has been particularly active in the field of agriculture where he has been president of local, state and New England organizations. He is now and has for many years been one of the directors of The National Holstein Friesian Association of America. He was an official in the Educational Corps with the American troops in France and has twice been invited by the Chilean Government to officiate as Judge at their National Exposition. He is now Chairman of the Board of Trustees of the Franklin County Extension Service. Both from a practical and an educational point of view, Mr. Elder has had the experience which should be particularly valuable in the position of County Commissioner.

Through the efforts of the local Scout Executive Committee and Scoutmaster Lewis Wood the Boy Scouts have secured the use of the Jewett Tract and pond near Beers Plains for a camp site. The boys are now working to put it in shape and will have a wonderful spot for their activities.

This should interest every boy who likes the out of doors. Any boy who would like to be a Scout should get in touch with Lewis Wood, Scoutmaster, or Mr. Livingston at Kenarden Hall, Tel. 95.

NEW LEGISLATION

State House Boston, Aug. 9, 1934

Special to Northfield Herald Legislation calling for the election by the legislature of members to the Public Utilities Commission has been filed by Atty. Wycliffe C. Marshall and Representative Thomas Dorgan of Boston.

At present these commissioners are named by the Governor with the consent of the council.

In the last month of the 1934 session a proposal of a similar nature, providing for the popular election of the commissioners, was defeated 116 to 95.

On the roll call vote, Representative Fred B. Dole favored the rejection of the measure, as recommended by the committee on Ways and Means.
